Maxwell Street Days Proclaimed a Success By Antioch Merchants

Typical Comments From Business Leaders Call
For More of Same

The Antioch area is growing, and with it come ideas to bring folks to this region to partake of some of the wonderful things this village offers. Elsewhere in the paper you will see a Chamber of Commerce ad further promoting the Antioch area.

The most recent example of this was when the Antioch Chamber of Commerce presented, for the first time, Maxwell Street Days Aug. 7 and 8.

"This won't be the last one though," said Bernard Osmond, Chamber of Commerce president. "We are going to plan on this being an annual event from now on."

"We enjoyed two good days of fun and have learned a lot from this experiment to help us have better ones in the future."

Hailed As Success
Russell Barnstable of Barnstable and Brogan Clothing, a member of the committee arranging Maxwell Street Days, was greatly surprised at the outcome.

"We did double what we anticipated and should have it again but keep our Fall Harvest Sale too," he said.

Mary Anne Pechousek of Mari Anne's Dress Shop was also on the committee in charge of publicity and advertising. The committee was comprised of many members who divided the town into areas and solicited merchants for the event.

Two free shows were presented each of the two days at the Lakes Theatre, and according to manager Dick Meyers, there was exceptional attendance. The afternoon shows drew the largest crowds with approximately 250 people attending each performance.

"As a member of the Chamber of Commerce we are certainly in favor of continuing this event into future years," said Meyers. "It helps all the merchants."

List Comments
Some other enthusiastic comments were:

Gibbs & Jensen Sporting Goods: "Sale was terrific, biggest thing Antioch ever had."

Jo-Pat's: "An excellent sale, should be made into a yearly well-planned sale."

The Jewel Box: "They Cleaned us Out."

Jack's Town & Country Shop: "Biggest thing ever hit Antioch."

Regional Planning Chief Cites Goals

Goals of the Lake County Regional Planning Commission were outlined Monday by Robert C. Morris in a talk before the Antioch Lions Club.

The commission chairman said that while the organization has a number of short-range functions, its primary purpose is to formulate plans for the physical development of the county.

Morris said that his staff is chiefly concerned with processing zoning cases and subdivision plats, to fit into a long-range comprehensive plan.

"At some point in the progress toward the comprehensive plan the pattern of desirable future land use will begin to appear clearly enough," he said.

"The basic principal behind any and all actions of the commission is that the advice given or recommendations made are objective and unbiased."

Phone Familiarity Fading from Antioch Scene As Aging Models Gradually Bow Out to Dials

Antioch's friendly "Hello Operator" telephone system is fading slowly into history.

R. N. Hawkinson, Illinois Bell Telephone Co. manager, said the village's oral type telephones are being replaced by dial phones, one by one.

"We aren't ready for any mass changeover, because the dial system will not go into effect until 1960," he said.

"But whenever one of the old telephones needs repairs our serviceman takes it out and installs a new model with a dial."

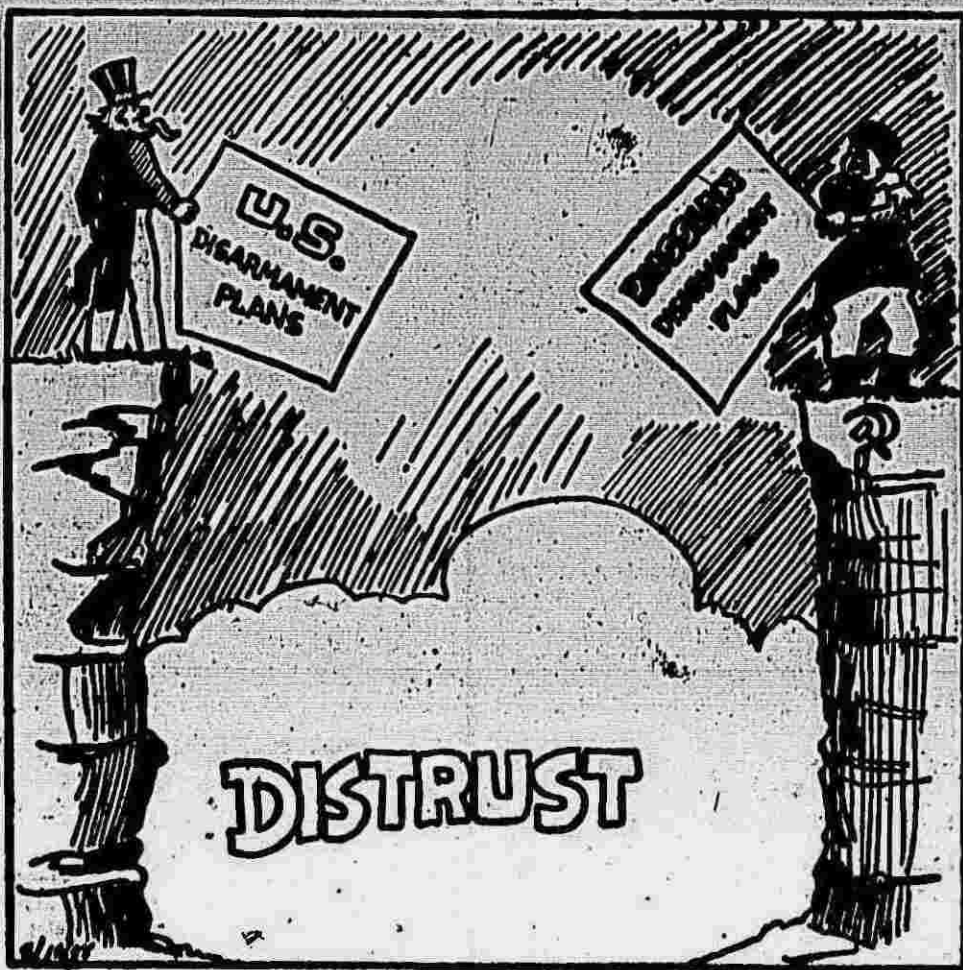

He said that, for the time being, the new dials will just be decorations, pending completion of the new exchange equipment building and offices at Lake st. and Hillside ave.

When the dial system does go into effect Antioch phone numbers will have a prefix and five numbers after it, such as ANtioch 3-1234.

Hawkinson said it was improbable that the Antioch prefix would really be ANtioch, however, since "neutral names" are generally used.

"So far, it could be anything. We haven't decided yet," he said.

A BRIDGE NEEDED...

Multi Million Dollar Expansion at Diamond's Hinges on Zoning Board of Appeals Meeting

Preliminary plans for a 7½ million expansion program at the George Diamond Steak House and Country Club were being readied Thursday.

A spokesman for the organization said there will be no outside financing, as earlier reported in a daily newspaper.

"Mr. Diamond is the principle man in this, no one else," he said.

Board Meets
The Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals will meet in the Antioch village hall Aug. 22 at 1:30 p.m. to hear Diamond's petition for rezoning a quarter-mile strip of property on Rte. 59 from residential to business.

Diamond was quoted as saying no opposition to the move is expected. "Wherever Mr. Diamond has gone, he has enhanced the surrounding area," the restaurant spokesman said.

"This new program is really nothing startling. It is something that has been talked about since we came here — just a continuation of our expansion in the last three years."

Super Motel
He said plans call for construction of a 200-room hotel-motel, a theatre, relocation of the existing 18-hole golf course, a year around skating rink, and a 300-car parking lot.

Nine holes of the new golf course will be located on each side of Grass Lake rd. The present swimming pool and tennis courts will also be improved.

"If we are permitted to proceed, we expect to make this a nationally famous attraction," Diamond said.

"We hope to be able to handle large conventions here."

To Form Club
He said a club organization will be formed, with members paying token fees for special privileges, such as riding, hunting, boating, and golfing.

The steak house and banquet areas will continue to be open to the public, he said.

The proposed hotel-motel, built in two sections on a bi-level plane, will face Grass Lake rd. west of Rte. 59. The front section will have 125 rooms, and the second section 75 rooms.

The area will be landscaped with small pools in the background, he added.

In other zoning news, the Board of Appeals will meet in the village hall Aug. 29 to consider a request to rezone Sea Otter Fiberglass Co. property on State Line rd. from business to industrial classification.

On Sept. 2 the board will hear a petition by A. J. Travis to rezone a section of Volk Brothers Subdivision, southeast of Rte. 173 and east of Parkway dr., from residential to business.

Antioch Man Must Walk Because of Way He Rode

The driving privileges of an Antioch man have been suspended by the state, for having three traffic offense arrests.

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter announced the suspension of the license of Sam Guard, 73 Hillside ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pearcy To Open a New Business

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pearcy will open a dressmaking and sewing and cleaning shop at 419 Lake st.

They have remodeled the building, the former Lillian Musch home, to include an upstairs apartment.

They will live in the apartment for several months before returning to their permanent home in Felter's Subdivision.

Members of the Moose Bowling League will meet Wednesday night in the Moose Home.

Heick's Heifers Hurt; He Hopes Hooves Heal

Jack Heick's heifers were still nursing cuts and bruises Thursday, after a wild stampede touched off by firecrackers.

"They were scratched up and terribly scared, but otherwise they seem all right," Mrs. J. P. Heick of Depot St., just east of Rte. 21, reported.

Exploding fireworks tossed by three young men last week caused six or seven of the frightened animals to bolt through a fence and under barbed wire into a field.

Heick said the rest of his 13 heifers broke loose when he opened the gate to try to herd the others back.

Sheriff's deputies Clair Janson and John Keyser aided members of the Heick family in rounding up the animals.

"Fortunately it did not rain, and the cuts on the animals' hooves were able to heal over before infection could set in," Mrs. Heick said Thursday.

A Melrose Park man, Daniel Silenzi, 21, and two companions were picked up by Antioch Police Chief Walter Scott, in connection with the incident.

Antioch for Moran For Probate Judge On Republican Card

Opponent Charges Moran's
Replacement May Cost
County $70,000

Only half of Antioch township's six Republican precinct committeemen showed up at a special GOP convention in Waukegan to nominate a new candidate for probate judge.

All five of Lake Villa's committeemen attended the session, at which State's Attorney Thomas J. Moran was overwhelmingly selected to replace Harold J. Tallett on the Nov. 4 ballot.

At an earlier convention June 5, Antioch's six committeemen lined up solidly behind Tallett as the party's candidate to replace Judge Charles E. Jack, who died in office.

Paid Fees
Gov. William G. Stratton subsequently pressured Tallett, of Lake Forest, into resigning after a Chicago newspaper disclosed that Tallett had allowed $271,000 in "investigator fees" to friends and relatives when he was an assistant attorney general.

A special committee of the Lake County Bar Association found Tal-let guilty of "nepotism, favoritism, and political patronage resulting in great financial loss to the State of Illinois."

None of Antioch township's committeemen was involved in the fee scandal, from 1941-48, however Arthur Bennett of Precinct 1, Lake Villa, is listed in county records as having received a $415 fee.

Lake Villa Split

Won't Name Moran

Gov. Stratton indicated Thursday that he did not intend to appoint Thomas J. Moran acting probate judge until the November election.

"I not going to do anything," he said. "The people in Lake County are taking care of their own problems."

This means that Zion City Judge L. Eric Carey will continue to act as probate judge until a new judge is elected.

Big Knights of Columbus Carnival Set for Aug. 20

A carnival sponsored by St. Peter of Antioch Knights of Columbus will be held August 20-24.

The Midwest Amusement Co. of Elgin will erect the midway on the village parking lot.

Committee members in charge are John L. Horan, Joseph J. McGrath, Roman B. Vos, Thomas Pechousek, Edward Sletten, Thomas Haley, Albert and Anthony Scully.

People living in the area east of Rte. 21 and North avenue are still undecided on the subdivision.

Simonsen said, "A lot of careful handling is important now to insure the future project."

More Gambling Stamps Purchased for Antioch

All but six out of 35 new federal gambling tax stamps issued to Lake County Wednesday went to Antioch and Lake Villa locations.

H. Alan Long, district internal revenue director, said the $250 stamps were for slot machines or pinball machines that pay off.

Lake County, which has purchased $250 gambling stamps for more than 200 locations since July 1, leads the entire state, as it has in previous years.

The latest slot machine stamps issued to this area are as follows:

Assure Water Supply For Regular Usage In Oakwood Knolls

Edgar Simonsen Stresses
Future Need for Water Pressure in Area

The water supply in Oakwood Knolls subdivision is adequate for normal use, Village Supt. Edgar Simonsen assured Antioch residents Thursday.

He said an investigation of the situation in that area revealed that until the proposed new and larger main is laid, normal usage will not be affected.

"In the event there is a fire, naturally there would not be enough water pressure, but we are equipped to handle such situations through other methods," he said.

"Such a condition is not ideal for an incorporated area, but it will take time to relieve."

Pressure Needed
Simonsen, who had been active in the recent creek improvement in the vicinity of Tiffany road bridge, said the immediate need in Oakwood Knolls is water pressure.

To accomplish this would require at least a year's preparation. It would involve putting through roads that are not there now in order to lay the suggested 6 or 8 inch main.

Such a main would be laid in loop fashion just east of the railroad, to increase the badly needed water pressure.

People living in the area east of Rte. 21 and North avenue are still undecided on the subdivision.

Simonsen said, "A lot of careful handling is important now to insure the future project."

Coroner Babcox Lists Safety Precautions For Swimmers, Boaters

Two "Needless" Drownings In Week in Boating Areas Spark Plea

Distressed by two tragic boating accidents in West Lake County during the week, Coroner Robert H. (Mickey) Babcox today issued a plea for "common sense" on the lakes.

"Both of the drownings this week could have been prevented, and should have been," he said.

Antioch Rescue Squad members today were still dragging for the body of a Villa Park man who drowned in Lake Catherine Sunday.

The victim was Harold Schlehahn, 33, a foreman for International Harvester Co.

Boat Drifts
Schlehahn and two friends went swimming from their boat, in about 50 feet of water a half mile off shore. The boat drifted away, and Schlehahn went under as he and his friends struggled to retrieve the craft.

In the other boating mishap, Robert Kwiatkowski, 15, of Chicago, lost his life when he was run down by a motor boat towing a water skier on Bang's Lake.

A 13-year-old girl driving the motorboat said she did not see the youth in the water.

Kwiatkowski had jumped into the water to push his rowboat after an oarlock broke.

"Small boat accidents are responsible for some 1,400 water fatalities every year — more than one fifth (continued on page 7)"

Two Events Scheduled For Aqua Center Pool

Two weekend events are scheduled at the Antioch Aqua Center.

The Lion's Club Splash and Dance will be held Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Richard Hawkinson, chairman, said there will be music, dancing, swimming, entertainment, and refreshments for Lions Club members and guests.

On Sunday at 7 p.m. a public swimming demonstration, postponed last week because of rain, will be held.

All stages of swimming lessons taught during the summer will be demonstrated. There will also be a water ballet.

The pool will be closed during the demonstration, and reopened at the conclusion of the program.

"Maxwell Street" Scene on Antioch Main Street

Folks of all ages crowded Main street in Antioch to help make Maxwell Street Days so successful the town is still a-buzz about it. Even the signs seem to be forcing their way into view. This busy scene is the east side of Main street looking north.

One More Step Needed

A news photo shows a huge quantity of 4-cent stamps being carted into a post office. This is symbolic of the fact that next August 1 first-class mail postage goes up a cent. So do the rates of other post office services with one exception—fourth-class matter, or parcel post.

The higher rates were approved reluctantly by Congress. But the post office deficit had gotten out of hand, and was passing the $700 million a year mark. On top of that, post office workers have been given a general pay boost which almost everyone believes is well-deserved. It obviously was essential to increase post office revenues.

The parcel post exception is the black spot in the picture now. It has long been a creator of heavy direct and indirect deficits, and has thus been taxpayer-subsidized. That will continue to be the case so long as its structure of charges is left unchanged.

To make matters worse, parcel post is the only post office service which is direct competitor of taxpayer-private enterprise. Private carriers operate on a national, regional and local basis, providing service by rail, truck and plane. Subsidized parcel post service under these circumstances is manifestly unfair—as well as needlessly costly to the public at large which must make up the deficits.

So one more step needs to be taken in postal rate revision—to put parcel post on a self-sustaining basis of operation.

Economic Highlights

Canada has been much in the news of late, and not only because of the state visit of Princess Margaret. Canadian-American friendship is a great tradition, with 3,000 miles of totally undefended border lying between the two nations. Yet troubles, some deep and difficult, have been arising between these two old friends. And they have been arising at a time when their need for each other is greater than it has ever been.

A feature article in U. S. News and World Report begins: "All of a sudden, Canada is taking on new and growing importance for the United States. An awareness of that fact lay back of the trip to Ottawa . . . by President Eisenhower and Secretary of States John Foster Dulles." This growing importance has several facets—economic, military, political.

Canada lies between the old 48 states and the new 49th state, Alaska. The Distant Early Warning System (DEW Line) is in Canada, and was a joint U. S.-Canadian achievement. And Canada, like Alaska, is, so to speak, a gold mine of unexploited raw materials of many kinds.

U. S. News discusses both the links that join us to Canada and the causes of difficulties. For example, more than 12 billion American dollars are invested there—more than half of it in industry and resources. As a consequence, Americans dominate many basic Canadian industries through ownership. This ownership, the magazine says, amounts to 51 per cent in chemicals, 68 per cent in oil, 45 per cent in pulp and paper and an overwhelming 85 per cent in automobiles. Canada could never have been developed without that investment—yet, as U. S. News put it: "Canada's Prime Minister has asked how a country can remain independent when so much of its wealth is owned by people outside its borders."

Both countries have a tremendous stake in trade with each other. Canada, last year, bought some $4 billion worth of U. S.-produced goods and we bought about $2.9 billion worth of hers. But the trade situation has produced problems, too. Canada is concerned about the fact that she sells less than she buys and has a trade deficit. She is opposed to certain of our tariff and quota policies, affecting such products as aluminum and oil. She is a major producer and exporter of wheat and objects strongly to the U. S. policy of disposing of surplus wheat at low prices abroad.

These problems, naturally enough, are not easily solved. The President defended our policies when he was in Canada, saying, in effect, that they would work to the long-run benefit of both countries. At the same time, he took steps to iron out certain frictions. Most important of these was the agreement to set up a Joint Cabinet Committee on Defense, including our Secretaries of State, Defense and Treasury and their Canadian opposite numbers. U. S. News says: "This co-operative approach to defense is expected to set a pattern for future joint action in solving the other problems that confront the two Governments."

One thing is certainly true and notable: The difficulties between the U. S. and Canada are dealt with in an atmosphere of respect, friendship and confidence in the agreements that are made. That is just about unique in this disordered world.

No Need for Panic

We have heard much of the alleged plight of the nation's schools, ascribed to grossly inadequate pay for teachers, inadequate building of physical facilities, and other such neglects. The commonly proposed solution is Federal support of education.

Now, however, the Institute of Social Science Research has issued an exhaustive study which reaches very different conclusions. It is signed by Roger Freeman, an acknowledged authority in this field who, among other things, was consultant on school finance to the White House Conference on Education.

Here are some of the points Mr. Freeman makes and substantiates: In terms of cost, education is the largest public service in the country next to national defense. Between 1929-39 and 1955-56, personal consumption expenditures doubled whereas public school expenditures tripled. In 1956, we spent $103.94 per capita on education as against $34.17 in Russia. In late years, the number of certified teachers has increased materially more on a percentage basis, than the number of pupils. In these years, in addition, college majors in education have increased by 33 per cent where majors in other fields decreased by 28 per cent. The classroom shortage has been greatly exaggerated and is rapidly decreasing.

Finally, in 1957 teachers' pay, on the average, was 94 per cent above the 1929 level; earnings of all workers were 82 per cent above.

The study certainly does not claim that everything is perfect in education. But it certainly does show that our educational problems have been magnified out of all reason. There's no need to press any panic buttons.

Traffic Violations Now On Point Plan Says State Sect. Carpentier

Springfield—Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier Monday announced the adoption of a point system by the Drivers License Division as an additional and important guide to review officers for possible revocation or suspension action against motorists who have compiled bad driving records.

Point values have been assigned to specific moving traffic violations, and the accumulation of certain totals will indicate revocation of the license or its suspension for varying lengths of time, he said.

Secretary Carpentier said the point system will enable review officers to increase uniformity of treatment for motorists with similar records by providing a standard to guide them. He described the Illinois system as the most balanced and thorough in the nation, made possible by the electronic data processing system installed earlier this year.

A total of 34 offenses against the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways and local ordinances are listed with point values ranging from 3 to 110. Secretary Carpentier explained. Offenses such as driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident or others for which revocation is mandatory are listed at 110 points.

The accumulation of 110 or more points within one year will indicate revocation of the license, while suspensions will be indicated for point accumulations ranging from one month for 10 to 20 points within a year to 12 months for 90 to 110 points.

Secretary Carpentier said such a detailed breakdown of offenses, points and penalties is made possible by the rapid data assembling capabilities of the electronic system. With that data quickly available to trained review officers for final decision, immediate action can be taken against dangerous drivers, he said.

In addition, any person involved in three reportable traffic accidents within one year, four accidents within 18 months or five accidents within 24 months will be listed for review, and any person under 18 years of age who has been convicted of a second moving traffic violation within a year will be listed for review, Mr. Carpentier said.

Following are the point totals and the actions indicated when these totals are accumulated within a 12 month period, provided there is a minimum of three violations within that period:

110 points or more—Revocation
90 to 110 points—12 months suspension
70 to 90 points—9 months suspension
50 to 70 points—6 months suspension
30 to 50 points—3 month suspension
20 to 30 points—2 months suspension
10 to 20 points—1 month suspension

Warning letters will be sent to persons who have two moving traffic violation convictions within one year, Secretary Carpentier said. For example, drunken driving gains 110 points; reckless driving 24 to 60 points.

Drilling costs account for 47 per cent of the expense of finding and producing oil.

ON THE BIBLE SIDE

EMANUEL THIELE

Is the Bible God's Word?

Most people readily acknowledge the authority of the Bible. Some have altered it to favor their conception. The original Hebrew and Greek texts are reliable sources. Our Bible today should be faithful translations of these originals.

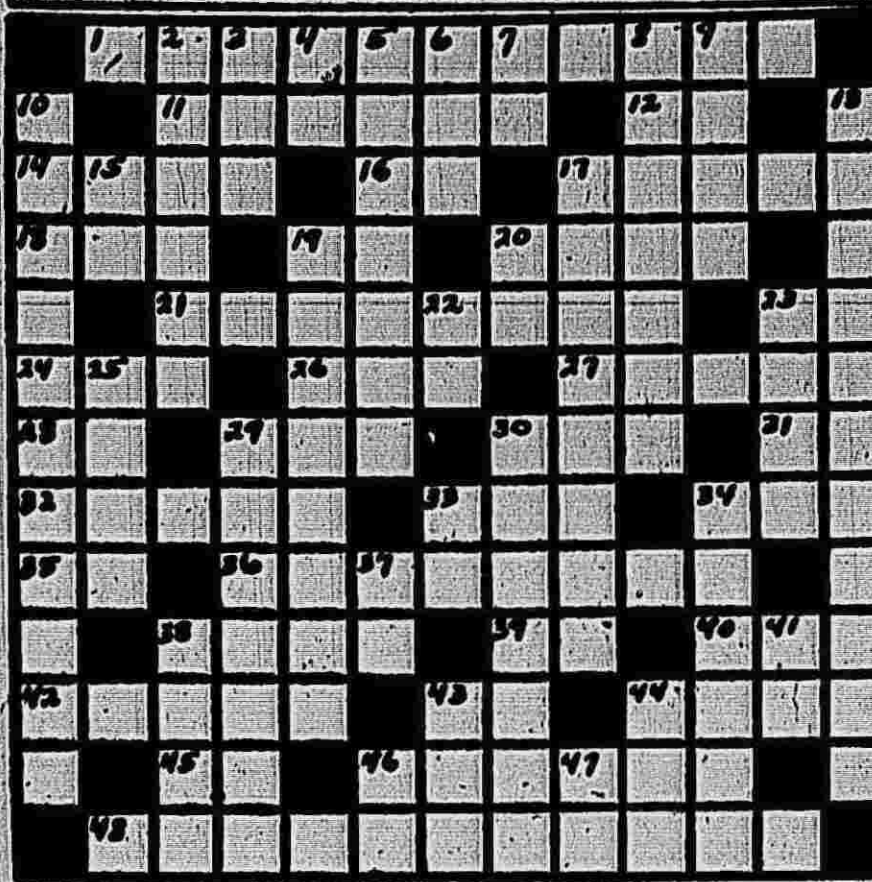

"Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scriptures is of any private interpretation. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man; but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."
—1 Pet. 1:20-21

"Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy law is the truth."
—Psa. 119:142.

And Jesus said in the gospel of John, "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit and they are life."
—John 6:63.

And when Jesus was praying to God the Father, "Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth."
—John 17:17.

HELEN GRAVES
EL 6-8012

The Lindenhurst Garden Club held its second annual Flower Show Sunday afternoon, August 10th and reports great success.

The champion for the day was Dorothy Verdick, winning six ribbons for her beautiful entries.

Lyle Mercer was the lucky winner of the potted planter.

The judges Mrs. Minnie Hart, Ted Brendel and Rhonda Sanders report they had difficulty in selecting the winners from 124 entries.

Those taking home winning ribbons were as follows: Evelyn Krakowski, Bonnie Swoboda, Mary Thomas, Vera Baier, Dorothy Verdick, Alice Magill, Vita Fidanzo, Hannah Toben, Mary Loblillo, Helen Skelton, Edith Westberg, Carolyn Westberg, Betty Scharton, Zinnia Neumann, Clara Langager, Judy Langager, George Zanck, Lois Flanagan, Marge Fabry, Velma Mercer, David Fabry, Philip Fabry.

Mrs. Helen Skelton, club president, wishes to take this opportunity to thank the committee judges and others who helped make the show the success it was.

corn. Farmers over the northern half of the state should be alerted and watching rank grain and grasslands for army worms," Dr. Decker advised.

The threat is becoming less serious in the central and southern part of the state, where parasitic insects and diseases are taking a toll of the worms.

"The abundance of worms determines whether insecticide treatments are needed. If one or more worms are feeding in the center of a corn plant or if six or more worms per linear foot of a drill row are feeding in grain, treatment is advisable," Dr. Decker said.

In fields heavily enough infested to warrant treatment with insecticides, either dieldrin or toxaphene may be used.

"Apply 1/4 pound actual dieldrin or 1 1/2 to 2 pounds actual toxaphene per acre," he advised. "Both materials kill armyworms slowly, and it takes time for the insects to contact spray. Do not expect a good kill for at least 72 hours."

"Do not apply toxaphene or dieldrin on small grains within 7 to 14 days of harvest. Do not allow any dairy cows or beef animals being finished for slaughter to graze in treated fields."

Illinois Tax Facts

A family that spends beyond its income soon faces trouble and the same is true of government, warned the Taxpayer's Federation of Illinois today. The Federation issued this warning, as Congress is about to adjourn, because of the orgy in spending in Washington. Some Congressmen have become so alarmed that they have suggested that Congress quit and go home before it votes any more spending.

Last February Congress voted a temporary boost in the debt ceiling, to 280 from 275 billion dollars. Current legislation raises the permanent debt ceiling to 285 billion from 275 billion and grants an additional temporary increase of 3 billion — to 288 billion — effective until June 30, 1960. This is only 12 billion below the all-time ceiling of 300 billion dollars fixed in 1945 during World War II. All this has been brought on by the high level of public spending.

It is time we face the facts, and follow a three course action program:

First, the public has to stop asking for outright Federal aid of one kind or another. The sooner we all realize that there is no "Santa Claus" in Washington, the better off we will be. The real fact is that the government can give nothing except that which it has obtained from taxpayers. If it gives, it must first take. And that which it gives is substantially less than it takes, for government overhead is costly.

Second, Congress as a whole must develop a degree of statesmanship about fiscal responsibility that has been lacking for a long time. As Congressman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) recently said, "We should have enough stamina to say we'll stop here and go no farther."

Third, the Administration must follow the principle of a balanced budget. This means that spending or out-go cannot exceed income. This means that billions cannot be added to the Federal budget with scant attention to the source of revenues to meet the ever increasing demands.

If the above three principles are not followed, deficit financing will be a major cause of the inflation. All of us — the public, Congress and the Administration — would do well to follow Grandpa's advice: "Live within your income."

If you want to sell — phone 43 or 44 and tell.

Known U.S. oil fields may eventually produce about 94 and one-half billion barrels of oil by methods currently in use.

Mrs. Robert J. Wilton left Antioch Wednesday for a weeks vacation and visit with her son Robert and family at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mrs. Frank Denison and sons, Charles and John, returned home Tuesday after spending the weekend with Mrs. Denison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bryant at Elkhart, Indiana.

Mrs. Donald Gaston and children Ralph and Judy and Mrs. H. B. Gaston spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gordon at Ottawa, Illinois. Miss Judy remained for a weeks visit with her grand parents.

Mrs. Marjory Reckers of Channel Lake, who entered Victory Memorial hospital Saturday, August 2, for major surgery, is recovering and will be able to return home in about a week.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Palmer have announced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Mr. Eugene Klevin Wagner, son of Mrs. Evelyn Wagner of Ingleside. The wedding date has not been set.

Students From Antioch Win Scholastic Honors; Prepare for Fall Term

Two Antioch residents have received scholarships to Stout State College, Menomonie, Wis.

They are Gerald Dittmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dittmer, Route 1, Box 115, Grass Lake, and Arthur Hanke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto A. Hanke, 441 Orchard St.

Registration for the students on Sept. 8 will be the largest enrollment in Stout's 67 year history.

Another Antioch student, Milburn D. Cain, 672 Main Street, will attend a business conference at Lake Forest Academy Sept. 7-12.

He will be among 37 Northwestern University seniors participating in the "Preview of Adventure in Business" sponsored by the Northwestern school of business in cooperation with four business firms.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Heath and son Edward and daughter, Mrs. Claudia Smith and children, Stevie and Ricky returned home Sunday after a three-week vacation and trip to California. They visited their daughter, Mrs. Juanita Horton and family at Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cougat at Stanton and the Bob Arthur family at Whittier.

Frank Roblin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Roblin, David Street and his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Christensen of Waukegan, returned home recently after a vacation in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and family of Beverly Hills, Chicago, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bailey and with Miss Mary McCann.

Mrs. Louis Strucker and children, of Wheaton, were recent guests of Mrs. Strucker's parents Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bailey at their home on Millburn Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Topercer, Jr. Parents of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. John Topercer, Jr., are the parents of a daughter "Teri Joan," born August 4, at Milwaukee. Mr. and Mrs. John Topercer, Sr. proprietors of Mary's Restaurant, Antioch are the grand parents.

Music Students Meet For Wonderland Fete

Camp Wonderland will truly be a wonder land when the annual 10-day music institute, sponsored by the Salvation Army, begins Friday.

Eleven middle western states will be represented by more than 100 registered students who attended the divisional music camps held in the Salvation Army's Central Territory earlier this summer.

The camp amphitheatre six miles northwest of Antioch will be filled with a variety of highlights including a demonstration concert for the students and the public by the 50-piece Fifth Army band Aug. 22.

The 28-member faculty has provided the institute with its own band, which will present a concert on Aug. 23 at 8:30 p.m.

A concert by two student bands on Aug. 24, at 2:30 p.m. will bring to a close the busy schedule of daily parades, recitals and seven music classes attended daily by each student.

Lake Villa & Antioch Successful Exhibitors

Fairs, fairs and more fairs.

All around the area and downstate, fairs are being held with Antioch and Lake Villa residents participating and winning awards.

An exciting picture was painted last week at the Kenosha County Fair in Wilmet, when the Antioch Brush and Pallet Club won 11 awards out of a possible 47.

Among the successful exhibitors were:

Jackie Horton, award of merit: landscape and water color, honorable mention landscape in graphic.

George Grunow, award of merit: portrait in oil of his father, honorable mention water color portrait.

Virginia Francisco, award of merit: water-scape in oil; and Pearl Powles won this same award for a floral in casein.

Eugene Bakes won an award of merit in the professional class for an oil portrait of his daughter and a water color painting of a boat. He also won an award of merit for a ceramic sculpture and a wood carving. Honorary mention was awarded for his enamel on copper.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kufalk, 810 Parkway, Antioch were successful exhibitors, winning 13 ribbons on vegetables and flower exhibits at the fair.

Mr. Kufalk exhibited the vegetables, winning 6 ribbons. Mrs. Kufalk exhibited flowers, winning 7 ribbons and 3 prizes for an artistic arrangement of assorted colors.

At the Illinois State Fair in Springfield, the Clever Clovers and the Tip Top Teens modeled their own handiwork and the Clever Clovers also represented the county in flower arrangement. Club members are Peggy McNeil, Christine McNeil, Kathy Forester and Marcia Kulp all of Lake Villa.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Frazier and daughter Kathy, and son Edward, returned home Friday after a vacation in Florida.

Mrs. Mildred Collins St. Clair of Columbus, Ohio, formerly of Antioch is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arland Clark. This is Mrs. St. Clair's first visit to Antioch in the past twenty-five years.

Parents of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Francisco, Jr. are the parents of a daughter born Monday at the Great Lakes Naval hospital. Francisco is stationed with the Air Force at Wiesbaden, Germany.

HIF Studies Role of Modern Family Doctor

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 13, 1958 The average family doctor today is a well-established physician in his forties who treats about 26 patients a day and spends more than eight hours a day on home and office calls, according to Health Information Foundation.

In its monthly statistical bulletin, "Progress in Health Services," the Foundation released preliminary findings from a survey made in cooperation with the University of Chicago's National Opinion Research Center.

The study was intended primarily to find out what the American public thinks and does about health and health facilities. Interviews were conducted in the summer of 1955 with some 2,400 persons (representing a cross-section of the country's adult population) and with almost 500 physicians named by these persons as their family doctors.

"The persons interviewed are representative of those to whom the U. S. public first turns for medical care or advice," the Foundation said.

About three-fourths of the family doctors surveyed by the N.O.R.C. were general practitioners, and almost all of them were in private practice. (By contrast, less than half of the total medical profession classifies itself as general practitioners, and about three-fourths of the profession is in private practice.)

These major survey findings were brought out in the Foundation report:

Most of the physicians in the sample were relatively young men. The largest group (over one-third) were in their forties, and doctors under 40 constituted an additional quarter of the total.

The average doctor interviewed spent about six hours a day on office calls and another two hours on house calls. Only one doctor in every fourteen made no house calls, and four out of five physicians were generally available for night and Sunday emergency calls.

About seven out of every eight family doctors were affiliated with one or more hospitals, and more than half of all physicians performed some free work in hospitals.

Commenting on the survey, Geo. Bugbee, Foundation President, pointed out that four out of five persons interviewed by the N.O.R.C. said they had a family physician to whom they turned regularly when they were sick. Most patients, furthermore, "reported a very good opinion of the abilities of their family physicians, reflecting a confidence that is certainly related to success in patient care."

"Clearly," Mr. Bugbee continued, "the personal character of the relationship between patient and family physician has not given way to impersonal arrangements for physician services. . . . Good medical care will always depend on how early during illness a physician is consulted and how readily his advice is accepted by those who ask for it. The public has unerringly perceived these basic facts. Otherwise people would not ask, as they do, that a family physician be the first called to home or hospital in time of stress or whenever advice is needed for the maintenance of good health."

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Noddin have sold their Channel Lake home, and plan to leave Antioch, Friday, for their home at 1619, 332nd ave. N., St. Petersburg, Florida.

This Doughnut's No Sinker

When you put a lot of "dough" into making a doughnut, it's not likely you're doing it for the sake of the hole—unless you're an oilman. "Doughnut" is the nickname of a new type of barge designed for offshore drilling in deep waters. It's circular in shape, with a hole in the center for the well bore. A model of the "Doughnut" is being tested at the University of California. In the risky and costly search for oil, new clues and techniques are eagerly developed by the hundreds of privately-managed oil producing companies in this country.

Soap Not Best Way To Teach Children To Stick to Truth

CHICAGO—When a child lies, washing his mouth out with soap, spanking him, or making him "confess" in front of others won't help him see why he should be truthful.

Instead the punishments may antagonize him to the point where he has little desire to be truthful, according to Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D., a past president of the American Psychological Association's division on the teaching of psychology.

Dr. Hurlock notes that a child lies for two reasons: to escape punishment and to win approval. Some ways a parent can help a child learn to tell the truth are:

Make sure you know why the child misrepresents the truth before you take any action. Your line of attack should be very different for intentional and unintentional deceptiveness.

Do not associate lying with religion by telling the child, for example, that God hears lies and will punish him. This is likely to make him fear God and death and will keep him from turning to religion for the satisfaction and comfort it can bring.

Without curbing his imagination, help him develop a critical approach to his imaginary experiences by asking questions which will force him to assess his imaginative experiences.

When he breaks a rule, find out whether it was intentional. Punishments that children consider unfair encourage them to try to escape future punishments by lying.

Incas Honored Mysterious Bird

WASHINGTON—The Peruvian Incas had a mysterious sacred bird, the coraque, the identity of which cannot be established.

No feathered creature that answers the description can now be found in Inca territory, according to Dr. Raymond M. Gilmore of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in a report published by the Smithsonian Institution.

As described by the early Spanish chronicler Garcilaso: "The sovereign wore another device peculiar to himself, consisting of two wing feathers of a bird called coraque... the feathers are white with a black patch, and of the size of those of a sparrow hawk... the birds... inhabit a wild region of Vilcanota, 32 leagues from... Cuzco, in a small lake at the foot of those inaccessible snowy white mountains... more than a couple, male and female, are never seen at a time. It is not known whence they come nor where they breed."

"The Incas wore their feathers because no others, save these two (birds) had ever been seen or heard of in the world, and all other persons, even the prince who was heir to the throne, were forbidden to use them on any account."

Man Thanks Others For Safe Driving Record

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Vio Layne, a Lafayette merchant, noted his 35th year of driving by taking a two-column ad in the local paper: "After 35 years of safe driving" for which I take little credit, but for which I am truly grateful, I wish to apologize to the following motorists:

"All those alert drivers who successfully avoided me when I signaled one way and drove another..."

"My wife and family, who have often saved me from an accident without having received proper thanks."

'Easy Way' Can Lead To Weight Problems

CHICAGO—Using a standard typewriter instead of an electric typewriter could be the difference between staying thin and gaining weight.

So could the use of a standard steering wheel instead of power steering, walking instead of driving, playing golf instead of gardening, just standing instead of sitting down, and many other "seemingly insignificant differences" in daily habits.

Three doctors report in the Journal of the American Medical Association that the basic cause of obesity is an intake of calories in excess of the needs of the body. Small increases in the amount of food eaten and small decreases in the work output of the body—as when a person switches to an electric typewriter—can over a period of time be responsible for overweight, they said.

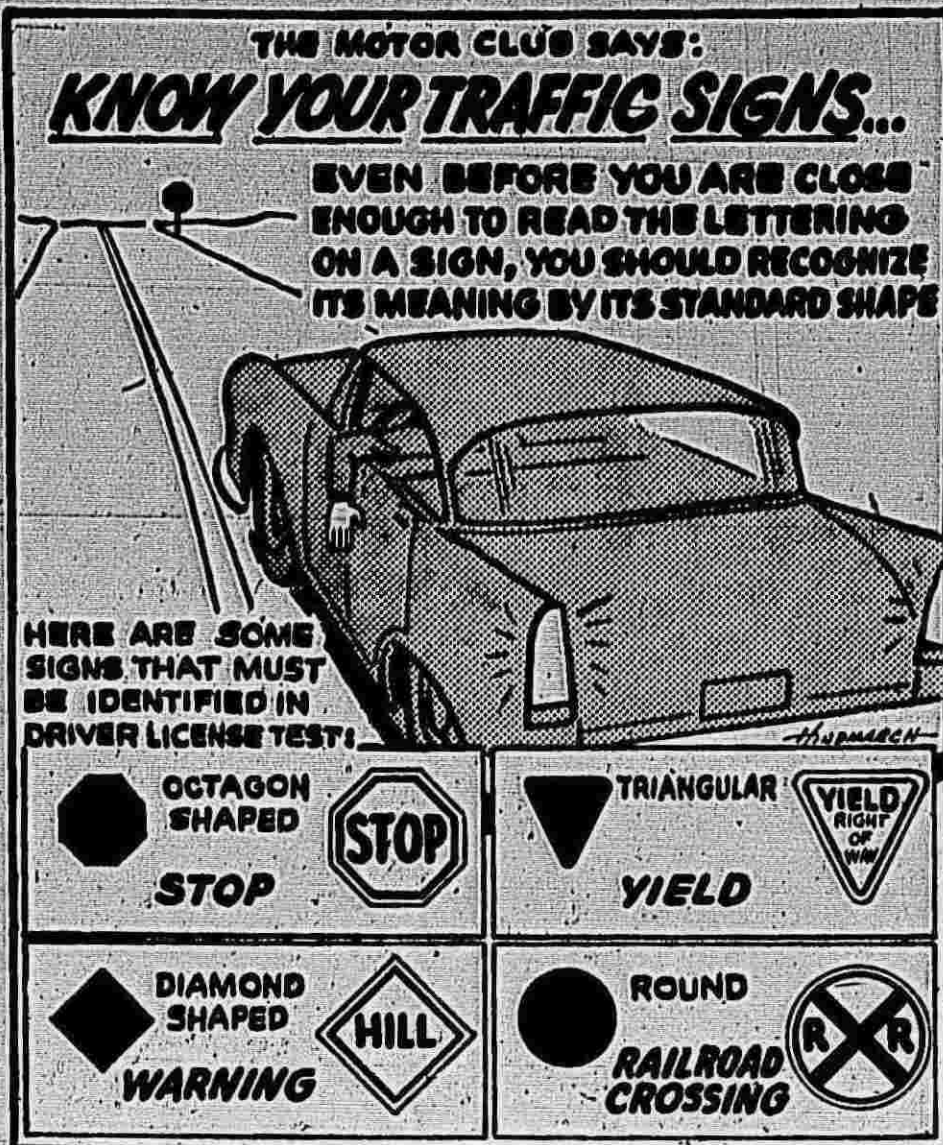

Soviet TV Advertisers

LONDON—Soviet television is loading its programs with commercials, Radio Moscow says. A radio commentator said the commercials are not the same as those shown on American TV, but are commercial plugs anyhow.

"A few days ago, I saw them advertising all kinds of delicatessen and candy on the TV show," the commentator said.

Rust comes off knives quickly if you stick the blade in an onion for half an hour before washing and polishing.

Keep weeds out of your gravel drive by sprinkling it with a salt solution.

Rules of the Road

All Roadway Users are Subject To Traffic Laws:

All persons driving or propelling vehicles, or riding animals on the roadway, are subject to the traffic laws and ordinances. In addition to those operating automobiles, trucks, busses, motorcycles, motor-scooters and motor-bikes, these include persons pushing carts, riding bicycles, riding animals or driving animal-drawn vehicles.

Who Is Not to Use The Roadway:

Except where there are no sidewalks, pedestrians are forbidden to use the roadway. Children on roller skates, coasters, and toy vehicles of all kinds are also required by law to use the sidewalk except for crossing the street in a crosswalk. The skater or rider has the same rights and obligations as a pedestrian.

You and the Right of Way—

When to yield the right-of-way is one of the most important Rules of the Road.

For safety's sake—Always yield the right-of-way—even when you legally have the right-of-way—if your insistence on such right of way might cause an accident. Your own self-interest is served when you avoid having an accident.

Consequently, the following state laws covering right-of-way are always subject to the law of self-preservation. Don't insist on your right to the right-of-way at the cost of your life—or the life of another person.

The driver of a vehicle approaching an intersection from different highways shall yield the right-of-way to any vehicle that has entered the intersection from a different highway. (A)

If two vehicles enter an intersection from different highways at approximately the same time, the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right-of-way to the driver on the right. (B)

If you are driving onto or across a through highway, or an intersection with stop-sign control, you must stop and yield the right-of-way to other vehicles proceeding on the through highway in either direction or which are approaching so closely as to constitute an immediate hazard. After having stopped and yielded the right-of-way you may proceed at such time as a safe interval occurs in the flow of traffic.

When facing a red traffic control signal, flashing red signal or a stop sign at an intersection, school crossing or, a pedestrian crosswalk between intersections, you must come to a complete stop before entering the nearest crosswalk or entering the crosswalk from either side of the roadway. If you are making a right turn or a left turn at such intersection you must also yield the right-of-way to any pedestrian within a crosswalk. (C)

If there is a stop sign, a red traffic control signal light or a flashing red light at an intersection you must come to a complete stop. When you come to a stop, make certain that no part of your vehicle obstructs the space set aside for pedestrians to cross the intersection.

When the intersection is controlled only by a stop sign, and after you have come to a complete stop, you must yield the right-of-way to pedestrians crossing the street in compliance with the law. You may enter or cross the intersection only when it is safe to do so. (D)

If there is a stop-and-go signal light in operation, all motor vehicles and pedestrians have the right-of-way when proceeding with the green light, unless a pedestrian "walk" or "wait" signal light is also in operation. Drivers making a right or left turn on the green light must yield the right-of-way to pedestrians within the crosswalk who are proceeding with the green light. (E)

The driver of a motor vehicle should always slow down or stop if need be, and yield the right-of-way to any pedestrian crossing the street or highway within any marked or unmarked crosswalk. (F)

At intersections where stop signs are located on all four corners, (four-way stops) the first car to come to a complete stop should be given the right-of-way. If two or more cars arrive at the intersection and complete their stops at the same time, the car on the right has the right-of-way. (G)

In making a left turn at any intersection, the driver making such a left turn must yield the right-of-way to all pedestrians crossing in compliance with the law and to any vehicle approaching from the opposite direction which is within the intersection or so close to the intersection so as to constitute an immediate hazard. (H) The driver making the left turn, after having so yielded, and after having given the left turn signal as required by law, may make such left turn. The drivers of all other vehicles approaching the intersection from the opposite direction must yield the right-of-way to the driver making the left turn.

The driver of a motor vehicle about to enter or cross a street or highway from a private roadway, driveway or alley must stop before driving onto a sidewalk and yield the right of way to all pedestrians, and upon entering the roadway, shall yield the right-of-way to all vehicles approaching on the highway from either direction and so close as to constitute an immediate hazard.

In making either a right or left turn at any intersection, the driver of a motor vehicle must yield the right-of-way to all pedestrians crossing the intersection in compliance with the law.

The driver of any motor vehicle leaving a parked position should be careful to give the right-of-way to all moving traffic.

If a pedestrian or a motor vehicle has already progressed into an intersection and the signal light changes, such pedestrian or motor vehicle should be given the right-of-way until the intersection has been crossed or a place of safety has been reached.

Slow moving vehicles should yield the right-of-way to all vehicles approaching from the rear. (I)

Regardless of who has the right-of-way, the drivers of vehicles must always exercise due care to avoid colliding with any pedestrian and they must always exercise a high degree of caution when they observe any child, or any confused or incapacitated person, upon a street or highway.

of all the drownings in the country," Babcox said.

Safety Rules.

"With the great popularity of boating today, any happy weekend pleasure cruise can turn into tragedy," he said.

He outlined the following safety rules to help prevent boating accidents:

1. Stay ashore in bad or threatening weather. Learn to recognize signs of storms so that, when out in a boat, you can return to shore in time.
2. Don't over-power a boat. Many boats carry plates telling the maximum horsepower the boat's outboard motor should be. If you are uncertain, consult a reliable marine dealer before buying an outboard motor.
3. Don't overload your boat. A good rule of thumb is one adult passenger per seat.
4. Avoid sudden or excessive bursts of speed.
5. When in trouble, think—don't panic.

Babcox also issued a word of warning to swimmers.

"Stay out of channels. It's hard enough for boat drivers to see, so why take chances?"

He urged boaters and swimmers alike to "use particular caution in water skiing."

Babcox has scheduled an inquest for Tuesday into the death of young Kwiatkowski.

Proper Planning Makes Painting Job Easier, Pleasant

NEW YORK—Often at this time of year the painters come—and their presence causes some shifting in the household routine.

But, modern paints dry quickly and since new flat wall paints have great hiding power, one coat often does the job, unless, of course, it's pale pink over gum-metal.

If you're fortunate enough to be having your whole house redecorated, work out a painting schedule that is convenient. Start with rooms, such as bedrooms, that aren't used continually. Make the always-in-use kitchen the last one to get a face-lifting.

If the painter is mixing colors to your taste—have a large-sized sample of the colors you want. Don't ask him to match a one-inch square swatch, nor a banana. Keep in mind that color in large areas looks "more so" and your color sample should be much less intense than the final color choice in both daylight and nightfall as colors can change—some more so than others.

Choose wall colors as different as possible from the previous colors, consistent with good decorating. Be sure the wall colors are muted, or grayed. Don't use intense hues that demand attention instead of simply providing beautiful background for your furnishings and pictures. Remember, it doesn't cost any more to paint in a lovely, refreshing color, than in a dull, drab tone.

Ask your painter to leave leftover colors in paint and enamel. Label these clearly, close tightly and keep for touch-up purposes.

Executives Getting Leaner in Nation Of Overweights

NEW YORK—Executives are getting thinner. In the last fifteen years, the number of overweight executives has been reduced a third.

This finding, the result of a study of 5,000 of the nation's executives, was reported by the Life Extension Examiners, a national medical group concerned with preventive medicine by way of regular medical examinations.

According to health insurance statistics, approximately thirty million persons, or a fifth of the U.S. population are overweight. Studies indicate that the average individual can expect his weight to increase from two to four pounds every five years up to age 60. A man of average height who weighs 150 pounds at age 20, can expect a weight increase of four pounds by the time he is 34. At 45, he can normally expect to weigh 160 pounds, and by 60, he probably will weigh 163 pounds.

When does overweight become a disease? Only when weight exceeds by ten per cent the normal figure that has been set up for height and build.

"Keeping weight down is not a matter of dieting—or starvation," one doctor said. "It is rather a sensible approach to eating the proper foods in adequate amounts."

Of 5,000 executives examined for the study, 58.9 per cent, he said, were healthy, without evidence of significant organic disease... a high level of health the general public does not surpass."

earlier convention. Warren Bushnell and John Schueler, precincts 2 and 3, backed attorney Willis Overholser of Libertyville, and Louis F. Schwicht, precinct 5, voted for Zion City Judge L. Eric Carey.

Antioch's committeemen, Russell G. (Bud) Holtz, Charles Larson, Francis L. Griffith, Helen Burke, Henry E. Pape, and Fred E. Zeason, all voted for Tallett.

When Tallett resigned his supporters announced he favored Moran as his replacement.

Moran Backers
Holtz, Zeason, and Mrs. Burke voted for Moran at the new convention last Thursday. Larson, Griffith, and Pape did not attend.

Bennett, Schueler, Wolfe and Schwicht of Lake Villa backed Moran, while Bushnell voted for Carey.

None of the two township's committeemen voted for Public Defender (Pat) Daly, who was billed as the "Harmony candidate."

Moran, who must resign as state's attorney if elected, probate judge, will oppose Democrat Richard Kahn of Highland Park in November.

Kahn, a former assistant U.S. attorney, has charged that it will cost the county an additional $70,000 to hold a special election to replace Moran, who has served less than half his term as state's attorney.

Mari Anne's To Provide Fashions For St. Anne's A. and R. Style Show

MariAnne's dress shop will provide the fashions to be modeled at the third annual style show and card party sponsored by the St. Anne's Altar and Rosary Sodality and the Home and School Association of Holy Name parish, Wilmet, Wis., on August 20, at 8 o'clock.

Ladies will be "Getting Into Focus," which is the theme of the show featuring a pretty fall picture of future fashions at the Wilmet high school auditorium.

A collection of styles pointing up the recurrence of fashion cycles in women's apparel will be a highlight of the show, produced by Mrs. George Merkt, Silver Lake. Models will present a live moving picture from the decades along with the styles from MariAnne's.

Senior models are Meses. Robert Patrick, Royce Gallagher, Ray Berres, Richard Nuytens, Russell Olson, Wesley Nielsen, William Richter, Andrew Aguerro, Joseph Radomski and Jerry Nielsen. Meses Erminie Carey, Jean Peterson, Janice Reiter, Rosann Nielsen, Peggy Timmer and Mary Lou Reddin. Elizabeth Blerdz will model sub-teen frocks.

Children's clothes will be worn by Colleen Patrick, Tamara Nigro, Nancy Nuytens, Lynn Hilbert, Dianne Faber.

Fashion cycle models will be Mrs. Alex Nigro, Mrs. Richard Krieger and Misses Donna Richards, Karen Richards, Bonnie Horton, Kathleen Lulling and Audrey Schroeder.

Mrs. Ben Wagner will preside at the piano and recordings will be courtesy of the Record Nook, Antioch. Mrs. Robert VanLier, Salem, is in charge of stage decoration and settings and Mrs. Bert Richards is the models' aid.

Downey Needs Manual Arts Therapy Aides

Dr. W. W. Bourke, Manager, VA Hospital, Downey, Illinois, announces the urgent need for two Manual Arts Therapy Aides, paying a beginning salary of $3485 per year.

To qualify for the Manual Arts Therapy Aide (Metal Work) position, applicants must have had one year's experience in general work.

To qualify for the Manual Arts Therapy Aide (Grounds Activities) position, applicants must have had one year's experience in farming or gardening. The experience may have been acquired as a journeyman, supervisor, instructor, or foreman in metal work and/or farming, or gardening, in a hospital setting; college; trade school; industrial arts program, or under the direction of a physician in private, state or federal medical program. Substitution of vocational or industrial arts education may be substituted for experience.

Quarters and subsistence are available at Downey at a reasonable cost. Usual Civil Service benefits are afforded all employees including annual and sick leave privileges; retirement coverage; insurance; and

U. of I. Food Report

CHICAGO — Many marketing factors, not the least being consumer apathy to preparing heavy meals during hot, humid weather, put the skids under meat prices. Some of the lowest prices of the year are posted in retail stores, coupled with more selectivity. Sharp drops occurred in beef lines, poultry eased, and both tended to weaken pork and lamb sufficiently for their re-entry to the value list.

The weekly University of Illinois consumer service survey of Chicago-area food costs has indicated a steady downturn for beef, and anticipated lower pork and lamb. This so-called anticipatory factor; a drop-off of cattle receipts, indicating a degree of marketing disorganization at supply points; increased supplies of hogs and lambs reaching markets—all of this coinciding with consumer hot-weather lethargy accelerated price declines that moved rapidly through live, wholesale and now retail levels.

This places consumers in a better buying position at the meat counters. And these behind-the-scenes factors spell out the following U of I selected meat values for THE WEEK ENDING AUGUST 18:

All beef roasts, with chucks dropping to the lowest level in months; beef steaks, with many better cuts dropping below the dollar level, and hamburger, once again becoming an "economy" meat. Pork loin roasts and lamb leg roasts (after a long absence) re-appear as posted values. Fryers and stewing hens add a final note to the wide-range of meat values currently available.

Values in veal are nowhere to be seen on the market horizon. General supply situations have been limited and prices hold among the highest of all livestock.

Fresh produce again reflects weather variables and results in a broader price pattern this week. But most items remain in a clear-cut value position. Breaking step with the pattern, however, are cucumbers, sweet potatoes, peppers, cantaloupes and bananas that quote higher.

Standout values of the "thousand and one possibilities" are early crop apples from Michigan; Bartlett pears; midwest potatoes, red and white varieties, on increased production; blueberries; sweetcorn, and salad vegetables. Watermelons' predicted sharp price decline occurred during the past week, with whole melons selling as low as 39c.

Grocery departments find newsmakers mostly through new-pack arrival frozen and canned goods, such as peas, peaches and strawberries. Prices are little changed currently. Frozen orange concentrate at 2 for 49c for 6 oz. cans, while growers are receiving about double last year's price, is an indication. Retail price advances are expected in the months ahead, as glut storage supplies have been reduced to more normal levels for all these items.

Consensus prices noted:

Beef — With cattle prices now below a year-ago, beef costs dropped sharply. Chuck roasts quote a low of 39c and range up to 45c, standing rib roasts 59-69c, boneless rib roasts 89c up, rump or sirloin tip roasts 89-95c. Sirloin steaks hold at about 89-98c, but porterhouse drop on the low side to 98c and quote up to the previous $1.15, with round steak ranging 79-85c. Hamburger is lower at 45-49c.

Pork — Most improvement is noted in fresh lines, as processed pork holds a static high level. Wholesale levels fell off 10%, resulting in retail of rib roasts ranging 39-43c, loin ends 49-59c, center chops holding at a seasonally high 89-95c as a profit maker, end chops quoting much lower. Hams, picnics, smoked butts are little changed from a week-ago with no particular values noted.

Bacon quotes a wider range, 85-89c for top brands. Spare ribs top at 65c.

Lamb — Leg roasts are the only value, of relative merit to note at 55-59c, with no price discrimination between light weight and heavy weight (older) cuts.

Poultry — Fryers bounced back into a better value position at 33-35c, aided by the appearance of stewing hens at value ranges of 39-43c. Turkey marketings lag behind last year, with indications that toms will be cheap at 49c. Eggs, still showing firmer tones, quote last week's 53-55c for Grade A large white, and 49c for mediums.

Produce — In addition to continuing array of cheap fruits and vegetables, these new price tags show: early apples on volume arrival 3 lbs. for 25-29c, Bartlett pears 2 lbs. for 29c, and midwest potatoes heavily supplied, pricing up from 10 lbs. for 29c for both red and white kinds.

Dates For Registration New Students At Antioch Twp. H. S.

High School students new to the Antioch community and who plan to attend Antioch Township High School in the fall are asked by school officials to register at the high school office Monday, August 18, through Friday, August 22. Hours will be 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 and 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. daily plus 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. on Thursday evening.

Tests for incoming freshmen who were not tested last spring and transferring sophomore and juniors will be administered beginning at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, August 19. It is important that new students be tested before school opens September 3 otherwise they may be as much as five days late in receiving their class schedules, school officers said. Any high school student who is not registered can do so on the specified dates to avoid delay during the opening days of school.

Students already registered but who wish to make program changes should do so not later than Friday, August 22. They should be accompanied by a parent or bring written permission for any changes in their schedules.

MOOSE TOPICS

The Mooseheart Alumni Chapter Night program was held at the Antioch Moose Home on Aug. 7. Mrs. B. J. Dost, chairman, presented Fred Gras, Com. of the V.F.W. as speaker. His subject was the possibility of a Hospital here in Antioch. With a little co-operation and a lot of work it could become a reality. The initiation held this night was of special importance to our Sr. Regent, Mrs. Leslie Palmer. Her daughter, Pat, was one of three welcomed as co-workers into the Women of the Moose No. 735. The other two candidates were Miss Gladys Provencal and Emily Novotny.

There were 62 members present to enjoy the refreshments served by Mrs. Dost and her well organized committee.

The Friendship Picnic held on July 14, 1958 at the Moose Home was a success even though the weather was bad. Mrs. Henry Grewe, Friendship Chairman, was in charge of all arrangements and everyone had a wonderful time. Refreshments were served and games played with prizes won by Una Fox and Darlene Roblin.

The Child Care Committee will hold a Card Party on Aug. 14 at 8 P. M. at the Moose Home and everyone is welcome to attend.

High School Officials Plan Teacher Institute, Open School Sept. 3

The Antioch High School Board of Education has adopted the school calendar submitted by County Superintendent W. C. Petty. Approval has also been received from Mr. Petty for the high school to conduct a local teacher institute September 2. Only the teachers will report to the school on this day for study and discussion of the school program.

All students will report to the high school on September 3 to pay fees and secure class programs. Classes will be in session for the first time on September 4 with the cafeteria in operation and the busses on regular routes.

The Antioch News and the Antioch Theatre invite Mrs. George Barnard, Rte. 4, Hazelwood Drive, Lake Villa, Illinois and one, to attend Sunday, Monday or Tuesday's showing of "No Time For Sergeants" at the Antioch Theatre.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank the Antioch Rescue Squad for their assistance and my friends and neighbors for their cards and visits while I was in the hospital.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

Read John 10: 1-6

A stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers. (John 10:5)

In Palestine a guide told our family an unforgettable fact. He said that if a sheep is lost, the owner will go to a neighboring shepherd, asking him if he has a sheep not of his flock. The other shepherd answers, "I don't know, but I'll see." He leaps upon a rock and gives his call. His own sheep lift their heads, but one goes on grazing.

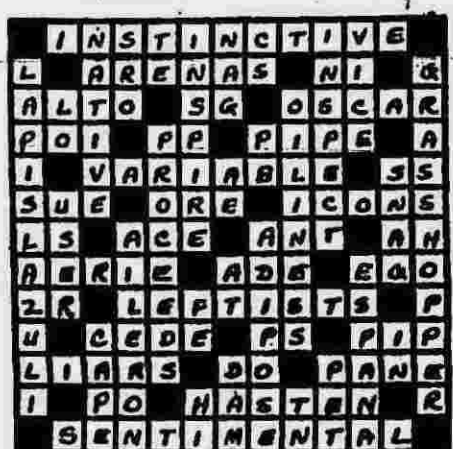

Then the other shepherd leaps upon the same rock and gives the call. This time, the flock of sheep goes on grazing, but the one sheep lifts its head. "That is my sheep," he says. He takes his sheep and goes home rejoicing.

Sheep know their own shepherd's voice and respond by following. In this regard do they not put us human beings to shame? We hear the voices of business, social life, luxury, radio or television—yes, even the humdrum tasks of every day. Above all, let us listen for and heed the voice of the great Shepherd, who calls us, His sheep, to follow Him.

PRAYER: Our Father, in this world where there are so many voices calling, help us to keep our hearts open and attuned to Thy still, small voice. May we remember to seek first Thy kingdom and Thy righteousness. In Christ's name. Amen.

Thought for the Day: "The sheep follow him: for they know his voice."

TV TOPICS

(By Harold "Pete" Peterson)

OIL YOUR TV?

A lady asked us a good question at THE ECONOMY TV on Rte. 173 west of Antioch... "Why should my television need servicing; there are no parts that move and need oiling? Why should it wear out?"

It proves that the average person has mechanical understanding and they apply it to electronics. I pointed to a nearby electric light bulb and asked how often it burned out and needed replacement. I explained about electronic friction in connection with heat, and that TV, radio and other electric devices do wear out and need replacements and servicing. There is theory and electronic practice to figure out that is not along the same lines as mechanics.

I'm not sure that I answered this lady right because she suggested that I get rid of that friction right away. When you phone Antioch 1454 you'll discover that we'll do our best to answer your questions, and mainly, do a job that will be satisfactory.

Auxiliary News

Past Presidents Honored

Fourteen past presidents of Antioch Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, were present at the unit meeting August 8, to enjoy the pot luck supper and party given in their honor. Each one was presented with a gift in appreciation of their years of service to the unit. The past officers present were: Carolyn Horan, Agnes Hills, Eva Gaylord, Eva Kaye, Maude Johnson, Rose Kennedy, Deborah Van Patten, Lucy Himes, Claire Horton, Mary Ellis, Pearl Anderson, Dorothy Horan, Vera Horton and Nancy Zitkus.

Girl Stater Reports

Elaine Christiansen, the junior student from Antioch High School, sponsored by Antioch Auxiliary to attend Girl's State, was present at the meeting and gave a most interesting report of her week's activities at Girl State, Jacksonville, Ill.

Delegates to the Legion Convention in Chicago, Aug. 1-2-3 gave very interesting reports on the business sessions for the Auxiliary Units, held at the convention.

Installation

A large crowd of members and friends of the Antioch Legion Post and its Auxiliary witnessed the installation of officers for the two organizations Saturday evening in the Legion Home.

John E. Horan was installed as Commander of the Post for the second time, having served the Post in that capacity 28 years ago in 1930. Mrs. Carolyn Horan was installed as president of the Auxiliary, she also was installed for the second time in the history of the Unit, having served as president in 1932.

Legion officers of Tenth District conducted the installation ceremonies for the post. Mrs. Charlotte Read, Tenth District Auxiliary Director, was ill and unable to conduct the ceremonies for the Unit. The only two charter members of Antioch unit who are still active members, very seldom missing a meeting and both having held an office or chairmanship every year since the organization was instituted are Carolyn Horan and Agnes Hills. They were presented with 30 year membership pins by the Unit in recognition of their many years of faithful service.

Next Scheduled Meeting

The next meeting of Antioch Unit also the first meeting for the new officers and chairmen will be held Friday, August 22 at 8 p.m. in the Legion Home.

60% of All Illinois Speed Zones Assigned New Maximum Limits

The Illinois State Highway Department has discovered that the posting of higher maximum speed limits on certain Illinois highways has resulted in more proper driving compliance from motorists.

Last year, the state legislature authorized a revision of speed limits on Illinois highways. Since that law became effective July 1, 1957, legal maximum speeds have been raised on a majority of the restricted speed zones on the Illinois highway system.

Harry H. Harrison, state traffic engineer, has revealed that approximately 70 per cent of all speed control zones, on state highways, urban and rural, have been studied to date; of the zones studied, 60 per cent have been assigned new maximum limits.

Harrison, who expects the entire state highway system to have been studied by Nov. 1, said that increased speed limits have been authorized in 1,167 zones. The speed limits were lowered in 23 zones, the maximum was left unchanged in 619, and 94 new restricted speed zones were created.

Matthew C. Sielski, director of the Motor Club's safety and traffic engineering department, points out that an increase in posted speed limits does not mean an increase in motoring speed. Said Sielski:

"Safety engineering studies have shown that improper speed limits tend to breed disrespect for the law. It is natural for the motorist to proceed at the speed he thinks is normally safe, and therefore many will exceed abnormally low posted limits."

This is borne out by surveys on highways affected by the higher speed limits. In a special study at 30 of the zones where the limit was raised, radar checks showed that before the change maximums were being violated by 63.3 per cent of passenger car drivers and 55.8 per cent of truck and bus drivers. After the new limits were posted, 17.2 per cent of the passenger cars and 12.3 per cent of the trucks and buses exceeded the higher limit.

"This shows," said Sielski, "that proper posting of speed limits will get a more proper compliance from the driving public than improper signs. Contrary to public opinion, the posting of improper speed limits does not necessarily lower the speed of drivers."

Resident of Antioch Appointed Director Mental Health Board

A relative newcomer to Antioch has been appointed to the North Lake County Mental Health Society's board of directors.

He is Frank Denison, coordinator of guidance and curriculum at Antioch Township High School.

Denison lives with his wife, Mary Jane, and their two sons, Charles and John, at 213 Second st., Rosings subdivision. They came to this community from Beloit, Wis., last Sept.

In announcing his acceptance of the appointment Thursday, Denison said: "Mental health is my forte. It is what I live for."

Denison, who is working as advertising manager for the Antioch News during the summer months, said much of his educational background has been in the mental health field.

The North Lake County Mental Health Society, Inc., is composed of lay people who are concerned with the problems of mental health in our communities.

The next meeting of the board of directors will be Sept. 2 at Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan.

Denison's term is for three years.

Top Bowling Champion At Antioch Recreation

The Portuguese bowling champion of St. Louis, Mo., has moved out of Chicago and decided to settle down in Antioch.

It's confusing, but true!

The "Champ" is Jack M. Sampayo, 55, who along with Michael Schamberger, 61, has taken over operation of Antioch Recreation, Inc., on Rte. 173.

The new owners, who took over Monday, had to change the name to Antioch Bowl, Inc., because of Illinois incorporation laws, Sampayo explained.

"But everything else, including the personnel, will remain the same," he said.

Sampayo, a native of Portugal, came to this country in 1920. Nine years later, although he could neither read, write, nor keep score, he won the 1929 St. Louis bowling championship.

He also holds the Illinois Doubles Championship, and has five "300" games to his credit.

Sampayo and Schamberger met on a bowling alley.

"I had four alleys in Chicago, and he sponsored my bowling team," Sampayo said.

Schamberger is no stranger to the Antioch area. He operated a business at Rtes. 132 and 59 for 10 years before moving to Chicago.

Lake Villa Library Notes

A new and interesting service has been provided at the Lake Villa Township Library according to Mrs. Ted Belke, librarian.

The Illinois State Library will supply, on inter-library loan basis, an entirely different collection of 20 pictures every three months.

Residents in surrounding areas are urged to help make the beginning of this service successful by attending the Open House Aug. 16 to view the current selections.

Coffee, punch and cookies will be served during the showing from 2 to 4 p.m.

Ground Breaking Sunday For Round Lake Church

Ground will be broken Sunday afternoon for the new Cavalry Presbyterian Church in Round Lake.

The Rev. C. Wayne King, church pastor, will turn the first shovel of earth for the new $50,000 structure in ceremonies at 3 p.m.

Mayors George Antonen of Round Lake, John Finch of Hainesville, and Llewellyn Matthias of Round Lake Park, will speak.

The new church will be built on a hill overlooking Cedar Lake rd. A huge cathedral-glass gable will be illuminated at night.

Announce More Donors To Rescue Squad Fund

Loren D. Sexauer, chairman of the Antioch Lions Club Rescue Squad Fund, has announced 27 more contributions to the fund.

The latest list of contributors follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Horton, Miss M. V. Vanderkloot, Drije Chevrolet, Inc., Villa Rica Club, Inc., Mrs. Eva Deering, Mrs. L. Sittler, and Victor and Ruth Grisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Simonsen, Marjorie M. Sulpher, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Biron, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyer, Marie and Berry Dunning, Evelyn and Ed Strang, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Drije, and the Chevrolet Shop Employees.

Antioch Fire Department, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ehrhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Tinker, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Moran, Mr. and Mrs. N. Heyme, Mrs. Chisolm of North Shore Resort, Mr. and Mrs. William Schroeder, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Burnett.

Sexauer said the contributions were being added as memorials to departed friends and loved ones.

Long Time Resident Of Wilmot Succumbs

Funeral services for Roland L. Hegeman, prominent Wilmot businessman, were held Tuesday.

Mr. Hegeman, 64, a member of a pioneer Kenosha County family, died Saturday in Mercy hospital, Janesville.

A lifelong resident of Wilmot, where he was born Oct. 30, 1893, he was prominent in civic and social affairs in the Wilmot area.

He established the Hegeman drug store there following his graduation from the University of Wisconsin in 1915.

Mr. Hegeman is survived by a brother, Leland, of Wilmot, and two sisters Mrs. Walter Winn and Mrs. Richard Burton.

Burial was in Wilmot cemetery.

Little League Teams Now on Home Stretch

With only three weeks of the season left, the second round play in the Antioch Little League has begun with the Sox leading the league.

The Sox jumped to the front with four consecutive wins and no losses.

League standings are:

	W	L
Sox	4	0
Dodgers	3	1
Tigers	2	1
Yanks	0	2
Cubs	0	2
Giants	0	3

The main source of income to help support and maintain the league is in the refreshment stand during the games. With such a short time left in the season, there is a need for help on the part of the parents.

About 150 boys comprise the league this year and it is hoped that some additional help may be expected from their parents who haven't yet participated.

But rather seek ye the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added unto you.—(St. Luke 12, 31.)

Those who love God with all their hearts and souls, who surrender their will to His and trust Him completely, will find that all their just and good needs are met—abundantly. There is always more at the Fount than we can absorb.

Even Dr. Kinsey Might Have Lifted Eyebrows a Bit at Behavior of Rats

LAFAYETTE, IND.—The famous Dr. Kinsey, who remained unperturbed in the face of some of his findings, might have lifted his eyebrows a bit at behavior of rats and mice in certain fields, an official of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service suggested recently.

Dr. G. C. Oederkirk, district agent of the rodent control branch, with headquarters at Purdue University, made his observations to point up the fact that to achieve maximum control of farm rats—with its resulting benefits, a program should be conducted on a year-around basis.

"Both rats and mice possess a high reproductive capacity," Dr. Oederkirk pointed out. "While their breeding rate is usually greatest during spring and fall, 20 to 30 per cent of the female rats in a colony are always pregnant."

"About 3,500,000 rats are born daily in the United States," Dr. Oederkirk estimated. "Many of them die through natural mortality, but in one year's time a pair often produce 60 to 70 offspring that survive to maturity."

"The female meadow mouse is said to be 'impregnant' only 10 per cent of her life and the household variety is not far behind."

"One pair of rats may have 40 to 60 surviving offspring, all of them with a food-consumption potential of 25 pounds annually and a contamination and destruction potential of 10 pounds for each pound consumed."

A large percentage of the 3,500,000 rats born daily are born on farms, where, unless precautions are taken, there is plenty of food in the form of corn and other grain and plenty of hiding places, Dr. Oederkirk said, adding:

"A year-around program of baiting and trapping, rat-proofing of grain storage, accompanied by a constant effort to keep farm premises clean of hiding places, will keep rat infestations at a minimum and will pay big dividends."

George chuckled as he glanced up from his paper.

"Nobody gets madder than a fellow who has to take a dose of his own medicine," he commented to his wife.

"Listen to this letter a union member named Becker wrote to his newspaper in Chicago:

"Unions are getting too powerful for their own good."

"I am a union man myself, but it burns me up when a fanatic plumber tells me I can't paint my own house. He says if a business agent should come along and see me paint—ing, they could put a stop order on the plumbing work.

"Did we create unions in order to keep a man from working on his own house? The government gave the unions the power to bargain with management, and it is high time we equalize that power before the unions destroy themselves."

Molly nodded. "I think he's right," she said. "The government will have to do something if the unions can't look after their own interests without causing so much trouble for everybody else."
